Washington Says Commerce and Communication Must Not Be Hindered.

GALVESTON, Tex.—The United States cruiser Tacoma is aground and in distress on the Banquillas reefs, 16 miles from Vera Cruz, and is sending distress calls, according to advice received today from the hydrographic office here to-day. Wireless messages intercepted by the naval station here, sent out by the Tacoma at 6:45 a.m. apportioned to the American consul at Vera Cruz for two strong tugs, saying that unless the tugs arrived within two hours it might be too late to pull the Tacoma off the reef.

Thinking in mind the warning recently given by the navy hydrographic office that vessels should not enter Tampico harbor at night because of the possible change in light signals incident to the revolution, many officers expressed the view that the Banquillas light might have been darkened, or that the system of lights was altered in such a way that the Tacoma was thrown from her course.

Whether there will be any danger to the crew of the Tacoma was not apparent from the messages.

The Tacoma, a light cruiser of 3,200 tons, left Galveston Sunday for Vera Cruz. Since the outbreak of the Mexican revolt she has been patrolling the Gulf coast and frequently came into the port of Tampico. The president of the New York committee to fund over another check for $50,000 before leaving Washington.

Democrats Will Convene in N. Y.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Washington—A novelty in more than half century of American politics—a national convention in New York City—will be presented today at the 1924 campaign.

Historic Madison Square Garden in New York will be the scene of this year's democratic national convention. New York was chosen yesterday by the democratic national committee after a spectacular contest with Chicago, San Francisco and St. Louis.

The convention will open June 24, probably a week after the republican convention at Cleveland closes.

The democratic national committee, carrying a budget of $180,000 from the 1920 campaign, and sorely pressed for ready cash to carry on routine headquarters expenses, listened to the jingle of the dollars as the rival cities hung up their bids for the 1924 meeting.

The $205,000 cash in addition to a fully equipped headquarters, paid by New York as its final bid, will pay the national committee out of debt and leave a snug sum to run on until the contributions begin to come in for the 1924 campaign.

New York's offer was backed up with a certified check for $150,000 delivered to Chairman Cordell Hull by the national committee president of the New York committee to fund over another check for $50,000 before leaving Washington.

WON'T BOAST RATES
Hotel men made it clear that the rates of the city's 150 hosteleries, which aggregate approximately 60,000 rooms, would not be raised while business and theatrical men echoed the intention not to take advantage of the convention influx in boost prices.

Madison—Another step toward a test of the state emergency act was taken by the state board of normal regents last night when it adopted a report of the business committee of the board, approving and allotting $31,300 in emergency funds voted by Governor Blaauw and State Treasurer Levitan.

The board did not take definite action toward bringing the emergency question to a head by voting to request Secretary of State Zimmerman for a portion of the funds. This step will be taken as necessity for the funds actually developed, it was stated today.

"We do not intend to take any action toward a court test of the emergency question at this difficulty" in order that the funds is actually unclaimed, H. W. Famer, president of the normal regents declared.

It was pointed out that Secretary of State Zimmerman, who voted against the funds, has not officially notified the normal regents he would decline to set up the funds. It is understood, however, that plans are complete for carrying the question to the supreme court as soon as possible. The funds, as allotted by the board follow:

La Crosse, $1,000; La Crosse, $2,500; Milwaukee, $4,000; Oshkosh, $2,700; Platteville, $2,400; River Falls, $2,900; Stevens Point, $10,000; Superior, $3,200; and Whitewater, $3,100.

WILL SHOW FARM COUNTY SUPPORTS MOVIES IN J. H. S. BEE INSPECTIONS

Propose to Start Winter Lecture Course in Janesville High School.

Preparations are being worked out for a series of motion picture lectures and entertainments to be given for rural residents in the new Janesville high school during the winter months.

The plan for a winter short course on farm subjects was discussed by L. E. Jackson, state extension instructor in the Janesville high school. It is proposed to hold four or five evening meetings at which time motion pictures on a variety of agricultural subjects will be given and then a final meeting with a banquet for farm families at the high school.

One of the proposed meetings will be the proper way to eradicate the horworm, which so badly infects the market swine of the county. Inspections show that wormy hogs are losing farmers many thousands and there is an effective remedy for the "trusty" and unthrifty porkers. On a good many farms the same soap has been used year after year with the result the hogs show the effects of worms.

One of the meetings will be given over to the rural women, with Mrs. Nellie Jones participating in the program. A program will be given in the spring months for the junior club members of the county.

Over 200,000 people have already ordered Ford products on our purchase plan, the majority of whom will take delivery in the Spring.

markable. Honey was an unimportant product in the county four years ago. Through association efforts, however, the association has increased until there is a revenue of at least $150,000 a year to the farmers of the county. It is estimated that there are 20,000 colonies of bees and the association now has 60 members, all engaged in producing superior honey. It is hoped to have every beekeeper a member of the association, now successfully producing, labeling and marketing the bulk of the honey produced at fair prices.

County Inspection

Under the county inspection system, in addition to the county inspector, who is Walter Ross, the association president, the state will send one or two more men to the county and every colony will be subjected to critical inspection. These agents are empowered under the law to require the owner to either destroy or take steps to cure any foul-brood since the disease spreads rapidly to healthy hives. Inspections are continued until foul brood is eliminated. This will mean a greater quantity and quality of honey produced within the county. Similar campaigns have been conducted in many other Wisconsin counties.

GLASSCO'S REPORT OF WORK READ

Supervisors Hear What County Agent and School Sup't. Have Done.

Hearing the reports of County Agent R. T. Glassco and Superintendent of Schools G. T. Longbotham, the county board on Tuesday afternoon transacted routine business.

The report of the county agent was prepared in a novel way, being shown of photographs of field activities and charts prepared showing the growth of the development work. The gist of the report was published in the Ileville Edition of the Janesville Gazette and in the county board talk, the Ilemead work, spray ring, chicken culling, work in the cemeteries and club work were detailed.

Improvements in the county school system were noted in the report of Superintendent Longbotham, who read a well prepared paper. The progress made in recreation was noted—something that in the past has too often been neglected in the rural districts.

The county board is still fighting shy of hospital bills. C. O. Onsgard, Plymouth, advised the supervisors that the bill for $312.69 from Mercy Hospital, which was the bill of Harold Abrams, age 8, had been investigated by District Attorney S. G. Dunwidde. The bill was referred back to Ann Anderson, poor commissioner for settlement.

The supervisors straightened out the tangle about pay for the next board members, a ruling being obtained from the attorney general that $5 a month and mileage could be used. As the board voted at the last session to raise the pay to $5 a day but made no provision for mileage, a resolution was made to allow the usual 6 cents a mile.

Clean Up the Hees.

The appropriation for $250 to carry on the county clean-up campaign among bee colonies was passed after considerable discussion. A fair explanation of the work by Simon J. Ristler satisfied the board that the appropriation was merited.

An adjournment was taken before the special committee had opportunity to make recommendations on the dance hall ordinance. Early adjournments will be in order at this session to allow supervisors to catch buses and trains home.

Regular meeting of Fraternal Order of Eagles, Thursday night, at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

THRIFT WEEK TO OPEN THURSDAY

"Y." Schools and Other Agencies Cooperate in National Movement.

With the Y. M. C. A. as the central headquarters of the city, and the public schools and other public agencies cooperating, national Thrift Week, which will start on Benjamin Franklin's birthday, Thursday, promises to be one of the most successful held here.

Through the establishment of the school banking system, Principal W. W. Brown of the high school says, "Every week is a short week with us." But special attention, with possibly some program, will be given out this week.

Several thousand pieces of literature for distribution have been received and will be given out in the factories of the city. Moving pictures will also be shown in connection with the campaign. The public library has several books and bulletins on saving and economy.

Each day of the week has been set aside for the observation of some specific attribute of thrift. Thursday will be "Thrifty day," Friday, "Budget day," Saturday, "Pay Bills day," Sunday, "Share with Others day," Monday, "Life Insurance day," Tuesday, "Own Your Home day," Wednesday, "Make a Will day."

With 64 percent of the city school's enrollment now depositing in the school saving bank system, the children being systematically trained in the observances of thrift, but a campaign aims to promote in addition to saving money the advantages of using budgets, both personal and family, the need for the prompt payment of bills, and the safeguard which insurance affords, besides other topics which are considered of sufficient importance to be given one day of the week.

John E. Cain, manager of the Janesville store of A. Leath and company, was one of 13 Leath store managers who attended the recent Rockford furniture exposition, Monday.

A. J. Allen, president of the Leath company, was present.

Furniture of the Hanson Furniture company of Janesville was on exhibit, according to Andrew J. Gibbons, president of the company. The exposition brought the usual large number of buyers, and Gibbons was sure that buyers are placing orders conservatively, but confess to low stocks and, with good business, must buy large amounts in the future.

A good season's business is anticipated by the furniture men, Mr. Gibbons said.

DRINKING TOO MUCH COSTS FARMER $7.40

Edward Roberts, a farm hand, paid a fine of $5 and costs, a total of $7.40, when he pleaded guilty in municipal court Wednesday to a city charge of intoxication. He will be rested on North Jackson street.

Madison — Traffic suffered little delay as result of last night's snow in the Madison vicinity. Bus lines were running with slight delays.

Oshkosh — Roads leading from Oshkosh to Neenah, Fond du Lac, Omro, and Winneconne are open but rough.

Superior — Although the snow has drifted considerably, it has not interfered with traffic. Highway 10, which was opened Saturday to Ashland by a city truck, chartered by a bus company, is open and busses continue to operate.

Kenosha — County highway officials were fighting snow on all trunk highways in Kenosha county. Four road cleaners were busy and for the most part the roads were passable. The county board has made liberal appropriations to keep the roads clear of snow.

Appleton — No provision was made for removal of snow from Outagamie county roads, and most of them are almost impassable.

A big plow from the Iron Range, one that has been used to keep the roads open between Hibbing and Duluth, has been brought to Waterford and will be used by Miss Irma Hogan, owner of the Gray Goose Inn. "I have ordered this plow to keep the roads open," she said. "If the officials will not do it, I will do it alone. I am going to keep the roads open if it is physically possible."

Why Doctors Warn Against Coffee or Tea for Children

THE reason is simple. Coffee and tea contain drugs which tend to irritate the delicate nervous system of children, and so upset health.

The Federal Bureau of Education includes in its rules to promote health among growing school children, the warning that "children should not drink tea or coffee at all."

Why confine the warning to children?

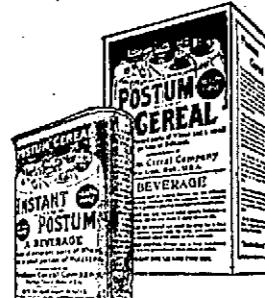

You are careful to protect the health of your children; why, then, take chances with your own health, when a change from coffee or tea is made so easy by Postum.

Postum is a delicious, pure cereal beverage—ideal for children and satisfying to adults.

With nearly 200 women present at the opening day of the Gazette Free cooking school at Sheldon's hardware store Tuesday afternoon, to receive the first of the four days' course of instruction being offered by Mrs. Margaret E. Brown, many were turned away because of the lack of seating facilities in the building, but the number of chairs has been increased for the Wednesday session.

How to Make Pies
The discussion Wednesday afternoon was on pastry making, and during the demonstration period banana nut and pumpkin pies, apple dumplings and cream puffs were made.

Economy of time and ingredients were given as the result of the newer method of using modern equipment and exact measurements. Exact measurements were emphasized, and Mrs. Brown stated that only after long experience could a woman guess accurately enough to produce a uniform product, but that by the use of standard measurements and known uniform products may be secured at the cost of provided standard ingredients are used. Not only must the ingredients be measured, however, but temperatures at which cooking or baking is done, and the time for which the temperature is maintained, is stressed by Mrs. Brown.

"You would be surprised," said Mrs. Brown toward the end of one of her interesting lectures, "at the importance of music in your daily work, if you use it right."

"Ever try sweeping or washing dishes to the stirring strains of a Sousa March or the syncopated rhythm of a good fox trot?" She laughingly asked. "I am serious when I say that it makes these daily tasks 50% easier. After all, music is relaxation, and when we can relax as we work and forget the monotony of our tasks—half the job is accomplished."

The Winnesheek Saved Up to Date

By the decision of the supreme court of the state in the appeal of the drainage case from Crawford county, innocent and simple enough in its title, the Winnesheek, that great breeding place of fish, and the haunt of game and wild-fowl, on the Mississippi, has been saved for the present at least. There may be an appeal to the highest court but the supreme court of Wisconsin has upheld the contention that the drainage plan was against the navigation laws of the United States and that the railroad commission was beyond its jurisdiction when it granted the drainage privilege.

There may be two sides to the question, that of the desire for additional farm lands, value of which is entirely problematical, or to allow the marshes of the Winnesheek to remain as they are for a game preserve and for the propagation of food fish. This side or phase of the question did not enter into the decision of the court. It may be called sentimental, if a reason at all, but it nevertheless presents a victory for the sentimental and the practical fisherman and lover of nature. Anyhow, the Winnesheek is saved for a time.

All right, marines! There was Beauvois Woods and Bals do Roches; now there is Philadelphia!

One Thing About Snow Removal

Reports from many sections of the state are to the effect that the roads are delifted with snow and that in these sections no effort is being made to remove the obstruction. Green county complains bitterly about inability to get milk to market. We are on the verge of cutting four months out of the year. We have spent millions to annihilate time with the automobile and telephone and other enormously valuable inventions, only to be at the mercy of the same elements which made hermits of the people of the state in winters of fifty years ago. We have the auto as a means of helping business. It is a real need for the farmer.

When we hear people declaring that the farmer is wasting his money in automobiles or the statement that the farmer has bought too many machines and that this is a reason for his being hard up, patience is given a severe jolt. If any person needs an auto it is the farmer. He is entitled to one especially in his business. But he should live up to the automobile and not be satisfied with having it in use only a part of the year when it is needed for 12 calendar months. We have advanced far in transportation but we have not kept pace in other things with it. One of the difficulties is removable—and that is the snow obstruction in the highways.

In order to show that she can bite the hand that helps her, Europe has shipped $580,000 worth of dogs to America in the last year.

The Community Chest in Boston.

Boston is discussing the "drives" with which the city is constantly being irritated and wants to know if it would not be better to consolidate them into one instead of having 130. That is a natural question. We have been building up a regular set of machines for drives for all sorts of purposes. Several hundred or more men and women are making fine livings off the drives which they are engineering. It is a regular business. No one ever knows just what the profit taken down by administration is, outside the home campagners where the expense is nothing beyond a few dollars of printing or some postage stamps. One hundred and fifteen social agencies out of the 130 in Boston have given consent to the Community Chest or Federated Finance plan. They have started at the scientific study of the plan with the hope that it will be found feasible in every way. They are not going to be content in Boston to take the dictum of a few persons that it cannot be done as well by this as the other old system. They are going to keep at it until it is arranged so as to be capable of operation to the great saving of time, of effort and of money for the welfare purposes and all other social agencies united under it.

It's a good thing that the winner of the peace prize does not have to return the money if war is declared anywhere.

The Balkan Powder Mill Again.

While we are talking about stopping war in Europe, the Montenegrin nation is in a receptive mood for a revolution against Jugoslavia that land of mixed Croats, Serbs and Slovaks of which Montenegro is a part. While there is no such official as a "Montenegrin consul" in the United States, one claiming that title is attempting to float a bond issue of three million dollars.

The same person is sending, from time to time, appeals to the newspapers for assistance to the nation which he claims has never succumbed to Moslem rule. Here it would seem, is a job for a league of nations—to harmonize the different peoples, hating each other cordially, in the Serb kingdom. The Croats want to secede, the Slovaks are anxious to set up a separate government and the Montenegrins say they never will be conquered by anyone, let alone a Serb. Whenever one looks at a smiling landscape of peace in Europe and feels comfortable over it, he may turn to the Balkans and find powder magazines with matches ready in a thousand hands for starting an explosion.

AUTOMOTIVE FACTS AND FIGURES

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington.—Automotive industry facts and figures presented in connection with the New York Automobile Show, while not official, are generally accepted as accurate and it may be regarded as settled that the motor vehicle production in the United States for the year 1923 realized the dreams of the most sanguine manufacturers and passed the 4,000,000 mark—4,014,000, to be exact. This was an increase of slightly more than 50 per cent over the previous record production of 2,659,064 in 1922.

A car for every family with a 1924 production of at least 5,000,000 is now the slogan of the producers and distributors.

The aggregate wholesale value of the motor vehicles manufactured during the year just closed exceeded $2,500,000,000. Of the total number of vehicles, 370,000 were trucks, with a wholesale value of $267,500,000. Of the passenger cars, 1,235,000, or 35 per cent, were of the closed type.

The average retail price of the passenger cars was $811, while the average retail price of the trucks was 1,080. In round figures, therefore, the public spent $3,000,000,000 for passenger cars and $400,000,000 for trucks, without taking into account freight and extras.

JUST FOLKS

BY EDGAR A. GUEST.

YOUR NAME
You got it from your father. 'Twas the best he had to give.
And right gladly he bestowed it—it is yours the while you live.
You may lose the watch he gave you and another you may claim.
But remember, when you're tempted, to be careful of his name.

IT WAS FAIR
IT WAS FAIR
The day you got it and a worthy name to wear.
When he took it from his father there was no dishonor there;
Through the years he proudly wore it, to his father he was true.
And that name was clean and spotless when he passed on to you.

OH, THERE'S MUCH
OH, THERE'S MUCH
that he has given that he values not at all.
He has watched you break your playthings in the days when you were small.
And you've lost the knife he gave you and you've scattered many a mite.
But you'll never hurt your father if you're careful of his name.

IT IS YOURS TO WEAR
IT IS YOURS TO WEAR
forever yours to wear the while you live.
Yours, perhaps, some distant morning to another boy to give.
And you'll smile as did your father smile above that baby there.
If a clean name and a good name you are giving him to wear.

WHO'S WHO TODAY

WARREN T. McCRAY.

Warren T. McCray, governor of Indiana and farmer, is the central figure in the most notable court action in the history of that state. He is fighting criminal charges of embezzlement, forgery and larceny.

The court action grew out of his financial embarrassment caused by the failure of his extensive farming projects. McCray, facing losses on account of the fall of farm produce prices and conditions generally, was forced to obtain funds to tide himself over. His dealings with a score of banks are to be brought into his trial before it ends.

Republicans of the state are incensed over the matter, feeling that it is embarrassing to the party in that it shows a single whole farm situation. McCray states that had he been able to obtain farm credit he would have "pulled through."

McCray, elected governor in 1921, is a native of that state. He was born in Newton Co., Feb. 4, 1865. His father was a banker and the founder of the state bank at Kentland, of which McCray became president.

McCray interested himself in farming and went into it on a mammoth scale. He bought blooded stock extensively and acquired large land holdings. His banking interests became so large as he developed his farming interests. Then came the crash. McCray denies all misconduct or intent to misuse any funds at his disposal.

TIPS FOR TAXPAYERS

The deduction allowed an employer for voluntary contributions to pension funds is defined by the revenue act as "a reasonable allowance for salaries or other compensation for services actually rendered." Such claims to be allowed are confined to the words of the statute.

The test of deductibility is whether the amounts paid are reasonable, and whether they are in fact paid for personal services. Reasonable compensation is held by the bureau of internal revenue to be the amount that would ordinarily be paid for like personal service enterprises in like circumstances.

A person who claims a deduction for wages or salary paid himself should report the amount of his income, and as much of his expenses as he has received. Salaries or wages paid by a parent to a minor child who has not been emancipated—allowed control of his earnings—whether in consideration of services or otherwise are not allowable deductions.

Bonuses paid employees may be deducted by the employer when such bonuses are good faith compensation for services actually rendered, provided that when added to the stipulated salary they do not exceed reasonable compensation. Such bonuses must be included in the returns of the recipients. Gifts to employees which do not have in them the element of compensation may not be deducted by the employer, and need not be included in the return of the recipient.

THE MOUNTING PREVALENCE OF HEART DISEASE

According to the mortality statistics of the United States census bureau cancer and cardiovascular disease are the only diseases of importance which are not declining, as judged by the annual death rates from all forms of disease these last 30 years.

Although no one has yet discovered the cause of cancer, physicians who have had the greatest opportunity to study the disease or diseases known as cancer believe it is brought about by wrong living and habits we have acquired with the artificialities of civilization.

Mother's Inability to Mother.

My baby is bowlegged although he has never tried to stand. He is 7 months old. He is leaning to the right when he walks. I don't yet my baby crawl and get himself dirty. I just teach him to walk.

My opinion: I am afraid you are right. The cause of cardiovascular disease is not as yet clearly recognized.

It is a group of disease conditions involving the circulatory system. Busy Man's Sport Page

By FRANK SINCLAIR

THESE COMES to the sport desk a piece of literature upon the horizon of the world and school children of Brandon. Read it: "We were interested in articles about the Horicon marsh because we are near enough to it to be vitally affected by whatever action is taken in the matter of flooding these 40,000 or more acres. We as children of Wisconsin are interested in the school children who will receive the most important benefits should the marsh be made into a lake once more. The heritage of our grandfathers was the herds of buffalo and the flocks of pigeons. The heritage of our fathers is the flocks of geese and ducks, and the muskrat and mink. The buffalo and the muskrat pigeons are not here any more. If the marshes of today are not protected and provided for, what shall be left for us? We as representatives of the children of Wisconsin, ask to have the Horicon lake restored. Voters of Wisconsin, you owe it to us, the children of tomorrow!"

CLOSE your eyes a moment and picture a school house in the country. See there the youngsters. Remember of the days when perhaps you were in school and the fun you had with the gifts of the outdoors. Then set behind the Horicon marsh movement. Horicon marsh is 40,000 or more acres, four to six miles wide and miles long, part of the Rock river. What is done for it will benefit Lake Koshkonong and the hunter of southern Wisconsin. There was a time when it was the greatest artificial lake in the states. Ducks swarmed upon the blue waters. Muskrat and mink thrived. Fish thrived in the vegetation. All wild creatures found refuge and food and shelter.

But IT has gone—all gone—almost. In 1868 the dam at Horicon was taken out and the lake broke up through Rock river leaving a hundred little lakes quite as rich in bird and animal life. In 1909 men of Janesville, Horicon, Watertown and Rockford tried to work up sentiment to restore the dam to such that the original marsh would hold back the flood water that did so much damage. A clamor arose from drainage promoters and drainage engineers, the story goes, and the plan was abandoned. The drainage people got busy; they dug a great ditch that became a vampire stream; it left only dreary desolation and mud. It became a popular farm land that had been promised. Pools, streams, bayous, ducks, geese, wilderness creatures have gone. The drainage ditches then turned their eyes on Hustisford dam but were stopped when the state supreme court declared it could not be disturbed. Fifteen years have gone and passed during which the marsh has been dried and when the time came of the opening of the Federal Public Shooting Ground and Bird Refuge act will open the way for restoration to millions. Write your congressman now urging passage of this act.
